Debate Over Civil Rights in Its Third Week

Washington, (AP) — The Senate starts a third week of debate on the administration's civil rights bill today with supporters vowing to keep its right-to-vote provisions intact.

Their expressed determination on this point coincided with mounting indications that only a last-minute compromise could save another section aimed at strengthening the enforcement of all civil rights.

All sides seemed to be in agreement, however, that an old Reconstruction era law permitting the President to use the armed forces to carry out court orders in civil rights cases should be repealed.

Sensors Knowland (R-Calif.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.), leaders in the fight for the civil rights bill, joined in offering an amendment to do this. The amendment is expected to be voted on during the day.

Adoption of this amendment would be the first Senate change in the bill passed by the House.

It also would represent a concession to Southern senators who protested that, under the wording of the bill, the old troop-authority law could be used to force school integration and other mixing of the races on the South "at bayonet point."

The bill's supporters replied that President Eisenhower had made clear there was no intention of using troops to enforce the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision.

They accused the Southerners of throwing up a "smoke screen" argument, but they said they had no objection to repealing the old law. In the Senate debate so far, the principal controversy has centered about Part 3 of the bill. This would authorize the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations, or threatened violations, of civil rights in general.

Summing Up Is Started in Pike Conspiracy Trial

By BOB HOLTON

Harrisburg (AP) — A defense attorney today described as "shameful and disgraceful" the introduction of grand jury testimony in the turnpike conspiracy trial.

Edward First made the remark in summing up the case of his client—John D. Paul, former assistant chief construction engineer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Paul and eight others have been on trial for seven weeks charged with defrauding the commission of 19½ million dollars.

First summed up Paul's case as the trial went into its eighth and probably last week in Dauphin County Court. Attorneys for four other defendants expected to make their arguments during the day.

Then will come the prosecution argument and the charge to the jury by Judge Homer L. Kreider, with a possibility the case might reach the jury late Wednesday.

1957 Miss Universe Pageant Is Sparked by Sheer Chaos

Long Beach, Calif., (AP) — In any language, this year's Miss Universe pageant boils down to a translation of one word—chaos, sheer chaos.

It developed Saturday night that Miss Peru, queen of the entire pageant, was really only 17—under age by contest rules.

This came not too long after the disclosure that Miss U. S. A. was very much a missus, working on her second marriage, in fact, and was a mother of two—violating another rule that contestants must be unmarried.

Officials banished Miss U. S. A. —right into a winfall of publicity—but allowed Miss Peru to keep the title she won over beauties from nearly three dozen countries.

Miss Peru, statuesque Gladys Zender, accepted her diadem graciously. However, her father

Ohio Governor Says Dr. Sam Test Will Be Delayed Until Wedler Statement Is Checked

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill said today Dr. Sam Sheppard will not receive a lie detector test until the "confession" of a Florida prisoner that he killed the doctor's wife is determined to be true.

The governor announced his position after a telegram from the unofficial "Court of Last Resort" headed by mystery writer Erie Stanley Gardner, cast doubt upon the validity of a confession by Donald Wedler.

Wedler said he bludgeoned a woman during a burglary on the same night that Dr. Sam's wife, Marilyn, was killed in her Cleveland suburban home. Sheppard, who protested his innocence, is serving a life sentence for her slaying.

O'Neill, who last week gave permission for a lie detector test to Sheppard, changed his position after receiving this telegram from the Court of Last Resort, an unofficial body created to prove innocent those who may have been wrongly convicted.

"We are still not prepared to take as true the confession of Donald Wedler. But following our examination of him in Florida, we admit to a growing conviction that he may well have committed the murder of Marilyn Sheppard. However, no one should form any final opinion on this man until after there has been a lot more investigative work done and until there has been a psychiatric investigation."

O'Neill pointed out that earlier telegrams from the court said there was not the slightest evidence of deception in Wedler's statement. But the governor said the latest telegram uses the language "or just plain deception."

"This present telegram," O'Neill said, "indicates the tests show he may be guilty of just plain deception."

"I have discussed this with Warren Davis of Ohio Penitentiary. It is my opinion and his that until the truthfulness of this confession is determined, there should be no lie detector test given to Sheppard."

O'Neill said he would wire a similar statement to the Court of Last Resort.

The judge who presided at the trial of Dr. Sheppard when he was convicted of murdering his wife in 1954 called on Ohio's attorney general to deny any group the privilege of acting as a "court of last resort" in Ohio.

In a strongly worded statement, Judge Edward Blythin termed the test "nothing short of fantastic" and questioned the "ethics and propriety" of such a test by a non-official agency.

But Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, commenting on Judge Blythin's statement, pointed out that the Court of Last Resort had been invited here by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Rep. Scott Says He Is Interested in Running for Senate

By John Koenig Jr.

Special Washington Service Washington (AP) — Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) let it be known today that he definitely is interested in seeking the U. S. Senate seat to be relinquished by Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.).

"If enough support develops for me, I'll accept an invitation to run," Scott told a newsman.

The name of the eight-time Philadelphia congressman and former national Republican chairman has been mentioned prominently as a possibility for either senator or governor.

Both the Senate seat and the governorship will be up for election next year when the terms of Sen. Martin and Gov. George M. Leader expire.

Martin, who will be 78 in September, has announced he will not seek a third term. The state constitution prohibits Leader from succeeding himself as governor.

Scott said he is aware that Reps. Simpson, McConnell and Van Zandt also have been considered as the possible GOP nominee to succeed Martin.

McConnell, however, announced a few days ago he will not seek the Senate seat. He will resign from the House Sept. 1 to become executive director of the United Cerebral Palsy Assn., Inc.

Liquor Board Eyes Testimony at Trial in Fayette County

Uniontown (AP) — The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board was reported today to be closely following testimony in the Fayette County hearing in which the state charges pinball machines are gambling devices.

Where payoffs have been shown, from machines in licensees places, the licenses will be cited for suspension or revocation of license on gambling charges, Dep. Atty. Gen. Guy Lindsay, of Pottsville, told a reporter. Lindsay is assigned by the state as counsel to the Liquor Control Board.

Furthermore, he said, if the Fayette County Court rules the machines are gambling devices, citations will be issued against all licensees involved, Lindsay said.

The state liquor law forbids gambling or operation or maintenance of gambling devices in any licensed establishment.

Judge Eustace H. Bane has been conducting hearings on the state's petition for the right to destroy as gambling devices 41 pinball machines seized recently in raids at Uniontown, Brownsville and Conneville.

Testimony for the state was scheduled to be resumed when court convened.

Other Man Killed, Wife Wounded in Clearfield County

Clearfield, (AP) — A 28-year-old man shot and wounded his estranged wife then killed her male companion and himself near here yesterday.

Coroner Robert R. Heath said Guy Carl Mumau of Glen Campbell shot his 23-year-old wife, Jeanette, in the jaw with a .22 caliber pistol then killed Marvin Price, 31, of Burnham, before turning the weapon on himself.

The snappy, precise, black-uniformed Kingsmen from Hamburg took first prize Saturday evening as thousands of spectators lined Pennsylvania Avenue for the fine parade which climaxed American Legion 28th District Convention held in Warren.

Alden Stearns, of Sugar Grove, was boosted from 28th District Vice Commander to Commander in the convention conclave held prior to the parade at American Legion. He succeeded Francis Masson of Sharon.

John Antonini, of Ridgway, was selected 28th District vice commander and the third convention of the revitalized district will be held in Elk County next year, probably in Ridgway or St. Marys.

Pennsylvania Legion commander Joseph Gavenonis was honored guest of the event and delivered the convention address at ceremonies which followed the parade that disbanded at War Memorial Field. The state commander was presented keys to the city by Paul Harrington, Chamber of Commerce president. This preceded the commander's address in which he called attention to the many service projects, particularly child welfare, conducted by the American Legion on a national basis.

Prior to and following the parade dozens of persons attended an outdoor chicken barbecue at American Legion Chief Cornplanter home on Pennsylvania Avenue West, and dancing followed. The neighborhood reechoed to the sound of drum and bugles late into the evening as drum corps filed back into buses for the trip home.

Following the afternoon convocation of the 28 District delegates a dinner was held in Blue and White Restaurant Cedar Room for the leaders.

Episcopal Bishop Orders Closing of Feud-Ridden Church

New York (AP) — An Episcopal bishop ordered the closing of a feud-ridden Brooklyn church yesterday to prevent its "being used as a battleground."

Bishop James P. DeWolfe called for the closing of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity until the courts settle a bitter struggle within the congregation.

For nearly a decade the church has been divided over the alleged pro-Communist activities of the Rev. William Howard Melish, its former rector.

He has denied any Communist link.

The closing of the 110-year-old church "until further notice" was announced at the 11 a. m. service by the present rector, the Rev. Dr. Herman S. Sidener. The 107 persons at the service were stunned by the news.

A dozen Brooklyn police detectives were at the church. There were no untoward incidents, however.

A court order recently removed the Rev. Mr. Melish from the pulpit and upheld Dr. Sidener as rector. The ousted cleric is appealing the decision.

The bishop urged Holy Trinity parishioners to worship at other Episcopal churches nearby.

House Ready To Take Up Postal Raise Measure

Washington (AP) — The House considers today a $18-million-dollar yearly pay raise for postal workers in the face of a possible presidential veto if Congress passes the bill.

Already 218 members—a majority—have signed a petition to get the measure to the floor for consideration.

Its author, Rep. Morrison (D-La.), told an interviewer in advance: "I think it will pass by an overwhelming vote."

The bill would give a $546 annual salary increase across the board to some 518,000 postal workers—a boost averaging about 12½ per cent. Their average salary now is about $4,340 a year.

Mrs. Mumau was reported in satisfactory condition at Clearfield Hospital.

The shooting occurred just outside the home of Mrs. Mumau's father, James Dickey, on Route 219 at Bell's Landing.

Mrs. Mumau, who had been staying at her father's home with her young son, drove up in a car with Price about 3:15 a.m.

Mrs. Mumau told state police she saw her husband running toward the car and "as I opened the car door he shot me, then Marvin."

Mrs. Mumau has been working in her father's luncheon room about 16 miles west of Clearfield. State police said she filed for divorce last Monday. Police said Price was married and the father of two children.

39 REPORTED DROWNED AS MILLIONS SEEK RELIEF AT LAKE RESORTS AND BEACHES

By The Associated Press

Another day of hot and humid weather appeared likely for wide areas in the eastern half of the nation today after a weekend of scorching temperatures.

Deaths attributed to the heat and drownings mounted. At least 39 persons drowned as millions flocked to lakes and streams seeking relief from the oppressive heat.

There was some possibility of a little relief in northern Midwest areas but none in the sun-baked areas in the Middle Atlantic states southward through Georgia.

The Eastern Seaboard, from Virginia to New York, sweltered in the summer's hottest weather yesterday. Thermometers bubbled past the 100-degree mark in many cities, including Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

The 103 reading at Baltimore was near the record 104 for the date. Washington sizzled in 101 heat, the highest reading in the nation's capital in three years.

The millions in New York City felt just as hot with a torrid 97.3 degrees, and in Wilmington, Del., the mercury registered 102.

Readings in the 90s were general in many other sections of the country and high humidity added to the discomfort.

Michigan reported 21 persons drowned over the weekend, while in New York there were 10 drownings. There were at least 3 each in Illinois and Colorado and 2 in New Jersey. Two men died in Kansas City, Kan., hospitals after suffering heat exhaustion.

A golfer collapsed and died on a course near Chicago and in New York a man collapsed and died after a tennis match.

A cool front that had been fairly stationary for several days across northern Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and the northern Great Lakes region started to move southward during the night.

Showers and thunderstorms broke out in a narrow belt from the upper Great Lakes region southwestward into parts of the central and southern Plains.

Some Indications of Relief for the State

By The Associated Press

Pennsylvania sweltered under the current heat wave again today but there was some indication it might ease up.

"Hot and humid today, warm tonight, not quite as hot Tuesday and Wednesday," was the way the Weather Bureau put it.

The high temperature in the state Sunday was 101 degrees at Philadelphia. The overnight low was 59 degrees at Emporium.

The bureau's long-range forecast for the week said the heat wave may moderate some in both the eastern and western areas.

There was a chance of scattered thundershowers over the northern half of the state this afternoon or evening and on Tuesday but the amount was expected to be light.

Arguments Are Being Made at Clinton Trial

By REIDMAN MORIN

Knoxville, Tenn., (AP) — Opposing lawyers are beginning final arguments to the jury today in the highly charged "Clinton trial" milestone case in the struggle over civil rights.

Afterwards, U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor will instruct the jurors—10 men and two women, all white—on the legal complexities of the trial. Deliberations probably will begin tomorrow.

Awaiting judgment are 10 Tennesseans, one a woman, and John Kasper, 27-year-old Northern segregationist. They are charged with criminal contempt of court.

The U. S. government asserts that the ten conspired with Kasper to violate a federal court order forbidding interference with desegregation of the high school in the little town of Clinton last fall, and that they committed "overt acts" to keep Negroes out of the school.

The complication lies primarily in the conspiracy section of the government's charge.

In his statement, Taylor will explain to the jurors whether they must find that more than one person "conspired" with Kasper in order to convict him. Lawyers say there have been instances where only one defendant in a conspiracy (Turn to Page Three)

Eight Youngsters Die in Kentucky Crossing Accident

Somerset, Ky., (AP) — A day of pleasure riding in a rattletrap car ended in death on a railroad crossing for eight youngsters yesterday.

The youths had been riding around in the 1941 model car all day.

Only minutes before the Southern Railway freight hit them, one boy, scared by what he called "some reckless driving," had left the auto.

Sheriff Cimora Phelps quoted 15-year-old Donald Hawk as saying he had been riding with the other youngsters but became frightened when some of the boys began wrestling to see who would drive.

Phelps said witnesses told him the car approached the crossing at about 35 to 40 miles an hour with a flat tire and a broken tie rod.

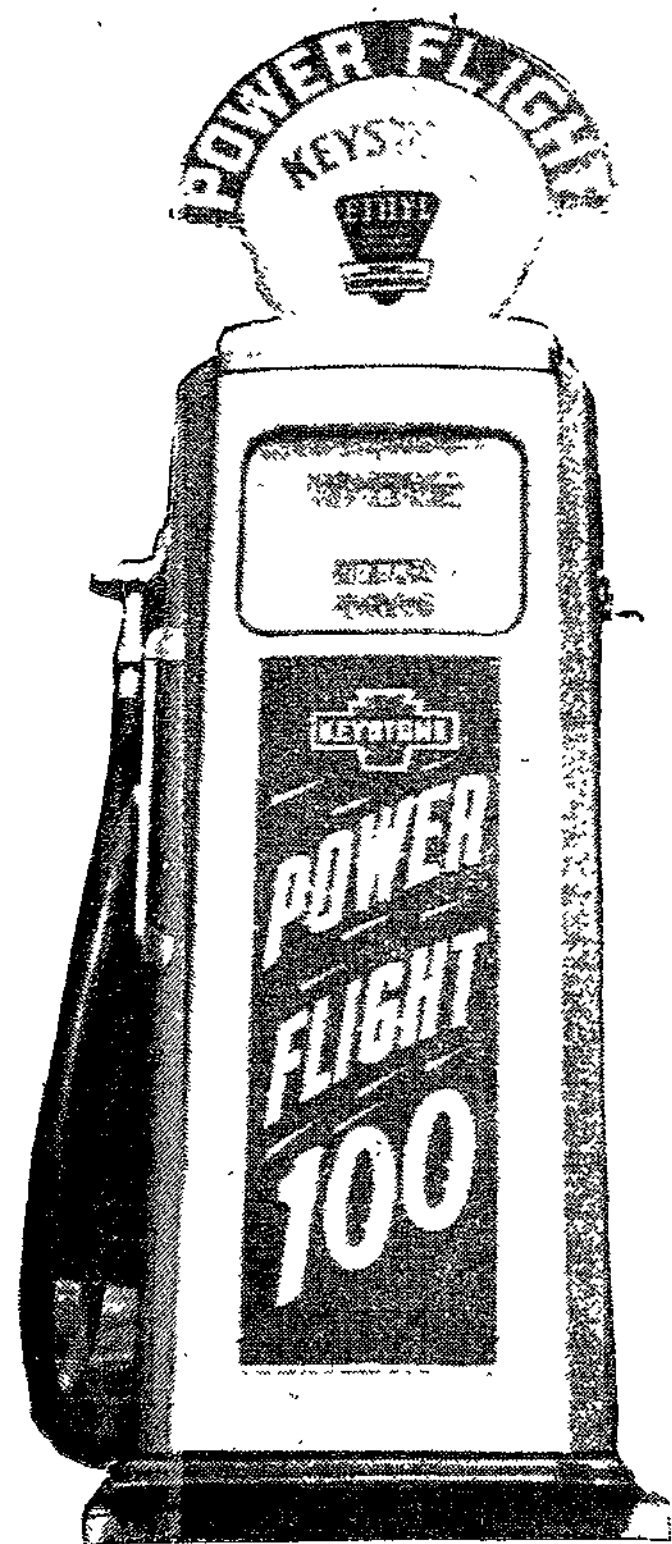

Phelps said the car was carrying eight youngsters and a driver.

She had only a banana to eat during the long hours, but was able to use a belt buckle to open a canned beverage and to "catch some rain water" to drink.

"We flew over the site and spotted the plane near the top of a hill," Christiansen said. "We couldn't believe anyone was alive, but then we saw someone waving from it with a white scarf."

The girl said they had taken off from the Alliance Airport Friday night and had run into a storm. They were heading back to Alliance when the plane crashed into the top of a hill.

Three Are Taken to Hospitals After Four Weekend Mishaps

Two young men from Tidoute were involved in separate one-car accidents on Route 62 Saturday night to highlight a weekend of four traffic mishaps involving Warren county persons, three of whom were sent to hospitals.

At 3:50 Sunday morning, Clarence J. Bauer, Jr., 20, of Tidoute, was heading toward Warren on the Route 62 three-lane about four miles north of town when, he said, "I fell asleep." State troopers reported his car veered across the highway and bashed into an electric pole, causing $1,000 damage to the car.

Bauer was badly shaken up and a passenger, George Harrington, 22, also of Tidoute, was taken to Warren General Hospital with fractured ribs. He was discharged Sunday.

At 9:05 p.m. Saturday Fred A. Storer, 26, of 1 High Street, Tidoute, was heading south on Route 62 about 2 1/2 miles south of Tidoute when his machine failed to negotiate a curve and after swerving to the right, rolled over. Storer was badly shaken up and the car absorbed all the damage it could, about $400, according to troopers.

In Warren Sunday afternoon, Harry Smith, Jr., 24, of 12 Gifford Avenue, Jamestown, was heading south on Prospect street and was halfway through the Madison Avenue intersection when for one reason or another he went no further until slammed into in the left rear by Geraldine M. Genotto, 28, of 301 Madison Avenue. Genotto machine sustained $150 damages, the Smith car $100.

Three persons, two of them from Warren, miraculously escaped serious injury Friday afternoon in a spectacular crash of an auto and tractor-trailer outfit loaded with steel pipe at the East-Stilwater, Kintone-Jamestown roads, just south of Jamestown.

Harold L. Moore, 51, of 429 Lookout Street, operator of the car was X-rayed and discharged from WCA Hospital in Jamestown. His wife, Hazel, was listed in "good" condition Sunday, but was suffering from abrasions and contusions.

George C. Campbell, 36, of Oil City, the truck driver, reportedly suffered a fractured left wrist and cut eyelid but was not hospitalized. According to law officers, Moore's 1957 machine was heading toward Jamestown when the truck roared through the intersection from which stop signs had been removed while construction is under way. There were no arrests.

The truck, loaded with steel, was smashed into by the car. The truck driver swerved too late to avoid the accident, sending the semi first into a utility pole, then overturning, pinning the driver inside. He was able to extricate himself. Fire trucks were called but no blaze broke out.

"BERNARDINE" NOW AT LIBRARY THEATRE

What are the favorite songs of a man who makes his living as a singer?

Pat Boone, making his film debut in "Bernardine," the Twentieth Century-Fox Cinema-Scope comedy at the Library Theatre, and hopeful that his three song numbers in the picture will be hits, confided to co-star Terry Moore that his all-time favorite ballad is "I Believe"; his favorite folk song is "John Henry"; his favorite spiritual is "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot"; and the song he found most satisfying was "Friendly Persuasion."

Pat particularly liked the latter number because he sang it for the picture of the same title and it was a big hit. It was his first contact with films and it convinced the public he could sing something besides rock 'n' roll.

"The music world now knows that I can sing many types of songs, and that opens doors for me," he explained. "In 'Bernardine,' I sing a ballad with a beat, a Calypso number, and an old standard love song."

Standout Pro Football Player Killed in Brawl

San Francisco (AP) — Roy Bar-ni, standout college and professional football player, died today five hours after he was shot during a quarrel at his tavern.

Held on a murder charge was James D. Invernizzi, a beer truck driver, who police said, pumped three bullets into the 30-year-old Washington Redskins halfback.

Witnesses said Bar-ni had escorted Invernizzi, 62, from the Fillmore Street bar for using vulgar language.

Tom Botti, a 37-year-old garage-man, told officers he had been talking with Invernizzi when Invernizzi grew loud and profane and Bar-ni asked him to leave.

Botti said: "I was right behind when Roy took him to the door. First thing I know, bang, bang, bang."

Frederick's body was found by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Frederick. They had just returned from a weekend visit with another son in Glade Mills, Butler County.

Six persons were reported dead from automobile crashes and six from drownings in the state.

The count was pushed to 13 by the death of another Pennsylvanian, found dead on a railroad track, apparently struck by a train.

trial was found guilty. Kasper is the only one named in the court injunction.

The maximum sentence possible in this case is six months in jail and $1,000 fine, or both.

Along with the question of the guilt or innocence of the 11 accused people are these questions:

1. Will a white Southern jury convict other whites in a trial growing out of the struggle over segregation?

2. How will the verdict—which ever way it goes—affect the great debate on civil rights legislation now raging in the Senate?

3. If all 11 defendants are cleared of the government's charge, will the high school in Clinton—storm center of this fierce fight—remain integrated?

CONVENTION ECHOES

Something new in parade regu-tions was enforced Saturday evening which permitted officials in arge to review the procession on the judges' stand, and at the me time be driven to end of the ute for the program. The situan was a little confusing for rectators east of Market street, wever, when the four new Ford nvertibles, occupied only by the omen drivers followed the police cort, national colors and Flags our country. What happened as that the marshal, chief of aff, speaker and others on the rogram at the field, left the cars
: the reviewing stand. The women nauffeurs continued on to Lan-ood street, and with Officer Jerr Parks providing an escort, returned to Hickory street and Pennsylvania avenue west, to fall in at e rear end of the parade. It was case of "The first being last" for all of the parade route. Incidentally the passengers were sold on aving women drivers—they were
rs. Jack Barr, Mrs. Cliff Briggs, rs. Paul Henning and Mrs. How-rd Campbell.

The crowd was at least half as small as the one that witnessed the July 6th Mardi Gras celebration parade, and it was noticeable they favored the southern, or shady side of Pennsylvania.

A large truck load of patients from Warren State Hospital viewed the parade from a big work truck parked south of the Pennsylvania avenue intersection at Market street.

The boys carrying the Flags of Our country, loaned by the Warren Lodge of Elks were from Troop 5 in charge of Fred Reed.
They were Bruce McCarthy, Dan
Dorsey, John Hibner, Jim Ronan, Jack Bufton, Roy Christensen and Bob Anderson.

The men on the Forty et Eight truck, coming up in the rear and, as always, ending the parade with a "Bang" had more fun than any one else—they threw out to the crowd along the way about 100 pounds of candy kisses.

The serenade for Mary Lou An-deregg by the "Flying Dutchmen" Drum and Bugle Corps, of Dunkirk, N. Y., was really one of the most enjoyable events on the program at the field. Too bad so many people had left before it got under way.

Jamboree Troop Home Safely

By BILL LOMBARD, JR.
The Jamboree officially is now over but a few Scouts still remain at the site of the Jamboree to await leaving orders.

On Tuesday evening Chief Corn-planter Council Jamboree Troop was host to Troop 16 from Deroit, Michigan, in an exchange campfire. As the evening progressed the leaders of each unit were introduced and it was a great evening for all who attended.
Wednesday was the day when section 33 took their tour of Philadelphia. It started out at about 9.00 a. m. when the group left the Section for the Reading Railroad Station, a 45 min. walk. Next the whole section boarded the train in clockwork speed. The tour of Philadelphia lasted until 12.35 p. m. when the group was served a box lunch. For the next half hour the troop had free time for resting. At 1.30 the Section assembled at the mall for the return trip to Valley Forge. In the evening was a Section honor campfire.

Thursday, the last day of the Jamboree was climaxed by the giant campfire, for the whole Jamboree, with the candle lighting ceremony when Eagle Scout Dick Campbell, who is at the South Pole, led the Jamboree in the Scout oath and Law.

The Jamboree contingent arrived home at about 7.30 p. m. on Friday after a great experience.

The only real accident was when Bob Schaeffer, of Pleasant Tow-ship, sustained a broken toe on Sunday. He was taken to the Valley Forge field hospital and released after treatment. His case was discharged from the Section health lodge on Thursday.

Tionesta Church Rites Unite Two Area Couples

The Rev. John Swartzfager officiated in Tionesta Church of God on July 14 for a double wedding ceremony uniting two well known area couples.

Margaret Ann Flick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Flick of Grand Valley Rd. 1, became the bride of Albert Elmer Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kingston of Tionesta; and his sister, Shirley V. Kingston, was wed to Roy V. Barr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Barr, Oil City.

The brides were identically attired in street length princess dresses of blue lace over taffeta, with white face picture hats, and carried white prayer books topped with corsages of white carnations showered with streamers.

Miss Flick was given in marriage by her father and attended by Carol Matheson of State College. Her dress of pink eyelet over taffeta matched that of Mildred Kingston, maid of honor for Miss Shirley. Each wore a pink headband and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations with pink streamers.

Walter W. Kingston was best man for his brother, Darwin Brooks was Mr. Barr's best man; ushering were Richard A. Flick and Paul Bucholz.

Following a reception for 125 guests at Dew Drop Inn, the couples left for respective wedding trips.

Mrs. Kingston will remain with his parents at Tionesta while he reports to Fort Riley, Kans. Graduated from Titusville High School and Bryant-Stratton Business Institute in Buffalo, she has been employed by Pratt and Lambert Inc. in the latter city. Mr. Kingston attended Tionesta schools and has been employed by the Howe Leather Company at West Hickory.

Mrs. Barr, graduate of West Forest High School, has been employed by Cropp Dairy at Tionesta. Her husband attended Rouseville High and is employed by Pennland Tankers of Oil City.

Gathered From The Party Line

Old friends here will be interested to learn that Mrs. Mabel E. Dallas, Jamestown, has been elected president of the summer WCTU at Chautauqua. She was also chosen speaker for the season's initial meeting and outlined plans for the coming year.

According to the Titusville Herald, Charles Vanderhoff of Nyack, N. Y., has accepted the pastorate of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church in Warren and will assume his duties August 11. With his wife and daughter, Carol Ann, he has been vacationing with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Vanderhoff at Gresham.

Area schoolmen will be pleased with announcement that William M. McDonald, music supervisor of Edinboro Joint Schools and formerly holding a similar post in Pleasantville, has been appointed to the faculty of Clarion State Teachers' College. In addition to classwork, he will direct the college band and choir.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Graebner, 107 Grant St., have returned home after spending the past week motoring in the Adirondacks and also visiting points of interest in Vermont.

The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of Trinity Memorial church, and Mrs. Rutledge, Fourth avenue, are enjoying a week's vacation in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Murray, North Warren, left Saturday for Bedford Springs, where the former, a local representative of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will be a guest of the firm for a four-day sales congress.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hesch, Magee Place, are happy over the arrival of another baseball player for Gannon College, born Sunday to "Ace" and Mrs. Hesch in St. Vincent's Hospital.

News comes from Pennsylvania State University that Kathryn L. Swanson, Ludlow, is numbered among 259 students in the College of Education to be named to the Dean's List for the spring semester. A senior in education, Miss Swanson completed the period with a 3.89 of a possible 4.00 average.

"Sparky" Saylor, Times-Mirror ad-man and photographer, has returned with his family from a pleasant week's vacation at Allegany State Park in New York State.

Arriving today and spending Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hertz, Second avenue, will be their nephew, Rodgers Peterson, his wife and small daughter, Port Arthur, Texas. The Petersons have been in Easton, Pa., where she was called when her father was killed in a head-on auto collision and where he joined her after cleaning up the debris of Hurricane Audrey in Port Arthur.

The costs of all accidents in the United States in 1956 were enough to provide three shots of Salk vaccine for every person in the world.

Separate Vacation Means Something Else to a Man

A RECENT issue of one of those magazines designed to make young men feel older and old men feel young carries an article on separate vacations for husbands and wives.

The male author takes the stand that men have been henpecked into family vacations and they ought to demand separate vacations. I venture to say there are as many wives as husbands who would like a separate vacation, if the wife got an equal break with the husband.

That is, if the husband would keep the children while the wife goes away for two weeks and if she would keep the children while he got away from it all.

The trouble is, when most husbands speak of separate vacations what they mean is that they will go off by themselves. Mama can take the kids and go somewhere for a couple of weeks.

WAIT, MEN

THAT'S not much of a vacation for Mama. So no wonder most women don't fall for the idea.

It's a safe bet the separate vacation idea would be given up after one summer's try if Papa had to take the kids along with him, or stay home with them while Mama went gallivanting off on her own.

So maybe the men better not start any serious talk about separate vacations. The little woman may demand the right to be as free as her husband, spending as much money as his vacation costs and completely shrugging off all feeling of responsibility for home and family while she is away.

Any husband who is willing to make separate vacations a fair and equal arrangement probably won't meet with any resistance from his wife.

He might even be shocked by her quick answer: "Okay, it's a deal. But I'd better go first, because I think you'll need a vacation when you get through with your turn at running the house and riding herd on the kids."

Ice Cream's No Real Balm For Child's Hurt Feelings

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

FRANK'S mother pushed a supporting pole under her line of wet laundry and went down to the cellar for more. When she returned, Frank had shimmied halfway up the pole and was hanging from it upside down like the sloth in his alphabet book.

Then the line broke. Frank fell—and with him his mother's row of just-washed sheets.

She punished him. In his room she spanked him as hard as she could. Then she slammed the door on his howls because she wanted to go to bed herself she couldn't stand the noise of his.

Luckily, the fallen sheets weren't a total loss. When she'd fixed the line, she turned the hose on them. As the water sprayed them clean, anger at Frank began to subside. She thought, "After all, at this age, they all climb everything. I wish we could afford a jungle gym in the yard."

When she'd finished hanging up all her wash, she called Frank down and gave him a plate of ice cream.

I hope she doesn't make a habit of this.

To a hurt child, ice cream is not a fair substitute for an expression of affectionate feeling. It would have been more nourishing to say to Frank, "I've been thinking about what you did. I understand now that you climbed up the laundry pole not to ruin my laundry but to show me how well you can climb."

It is not wise to depend on food to comfort a hurt child.

PSYCHIATRIST HILDE BRUCH is noted for her research into the causes of obesity in children. In her recently published book "The Importance of Overweight," she writes, "Quite often food has been offered by the mother as a substitute for love and emotional satisfaction."

If we insert food into Frank whenever he feels hurt or discouraged, he begins to equate comfort with food. As he's hungry for a non-material intake of our respect and confidence, it can't feed him. But with no experience in true comfort, he seeks the only kind he's known. And begins to develop a morbid, unending craving for food that leads to overweight.

A hurt child can no more find real comfort in the grocer's merchandise than he can in the merchandise of the liquor store.

Where Did You First Meet Your New Car?

Was it in an advertisement? So often the first meeting is . . . and how much it means to you and your family now. But it means even more to countless others, whose jobs depend on car sales.

When you buy a car, you help pay the salaries of your local dealer's salesmen. Part of your money went into their bank accounts, to their grocers, to other suppliers here in Warren. The circle goes on widening to include literally thousands all over America . . . all kinds of people in all kinds of jobs.

They buy cars, too, and millions of other items every day. Many of these sales begin with advertising on newspaper pages like this, country-wide.

So you can say, truthfully, that every time advertising helps to make a sale, your own paycheck and your family's way of living are just that much more secure.

Advertising Benefits YOU!

It is understood, from a visit with them over the weekend, that Mrs. Kirchartz has accepted a position as office secretary at First Presbyterian church.

ROW AT SALAMANCA

An order to provide a mounted patrolmen to lead a circus parade has brought the resignation of Salamanca Police Chief Milford L. Ferrigo. Chief Ferrigo had been with the force 26 years and filed his resignation Friday after a row with the city's five police commissioners over the circus parade, slated today. The parade, which involves Mills Brothers' Circus, which was in Warren Friday, was sponsored in Salamanca by a Masonic club. Putting a patrolman on a horse to lead the parade would "further lower the department's already low morale," the former chief said in a letter to the parade committee. Normally the parades in Salamanca are led by a police prowl car, but putting "a man on a horse is just a little too much," the former chief said. "After 26 years on the force, I should know something about the police force," he stated. "Let the police commissioners put on some uniforms and work that day." The five commissioners are appointed by Council. Lt. C. L. Tingwall, who has been with the department since 1927, has been named acting chief and will be appointed chief after the necessary civil service examination, Mayor Crowley said.

Jamestown's second professional rasslin' show of the outdoor season is scheduled for Wednesday night at Jamestown Municipal Stadium, under auspices of the Knights of Columbus, a percentage of the receipts going to the lodge's treasury. The midge grappers, who made their appearance on the first local card, are scheduled to return, according to promoter Carl Godet, who is allied with Buffalo's Pedro Martinez Godet said the remainder of the card will be filled with TV heavyweight stars. "If the weather remains favorable and with the Knights of Columbus giving the show a strong push, I see no reason why the turnout should not equal the Stadium's capacity". Godet added, pointing out the draw for the first card was in the neighborhood of 1,000 fans.

Jackson Never Stops Punching; What's Unorthodox About That?

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Emil Lence was reminded that Hurricane Tommy Jackson was slightly unorthodox. "Well," replied Promoter Lence, "if throwing punches for three minutes a round makes Jackson unorthodox, he most certainly isn't stereotyped."

Practically all of the stories from Harry's Farm on the Delaware River, where Jackson trained for his return match with Floyd Patterson, had to do with Nature Boy's clowning. Those that didn't probed into his inner sanctums in an effort to get a slant on his thinking, if any.

Few have been disposed to take Jackson for just what he is and then go on to figure out just what chance the crazy-quilt cloutier has against Patterson in 15 rounds at the Polo Grounds on July 29.

As Tommy Loughran, the old light-heavyweight leader, points out, Jackson starts with his second wind. While the Hurricane can't dent an old felt hat, six feet 2½ inches and 194 pounds is a lot of height and weight to be hurled at you for 15 rounds.

JACKSON'S WHIRLWIND ATTACK is his chief defense and to date this young man with the inexhaustible stamina has been immune to punishment.

Not even Patterson, the perfect boxer in the eyes of many, can have a plan of battle against Jackson. The reason is simple. Jackson doesn't know what he is going to do himself as he wades in slapping, backhanding and double uppercutting. As someone remarked, as champion, Jackson would have school-boys fighting backward.

Freddie Brown insists that Jackson is cute in his own way, although this is hard to observe from a ringside seat. "He lets go with some good ones here and there," testifies Trainer Brown. "He's more effective inside than you'd suspect. The reason is that he never holds and the other guy never gets any rest."

JACKSON DESERVES TO BE better than a 4-to-1 underdog. In 15 rounds, as opposed to the 12 he went with Patterson 13 months ago, the Hurricane could stir up considerable trouble.

Harry Kessler, the most competent of the three officials in their previous outing, gave the decision to Jackson, only to be outvoted by two judges. A number of schooled observers agreed with the referee on the ground that Jackson never stopped lugging the headaches. Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine, was one. George Farnassus, the veteran manager, was another. A couple of old-line boxing writers concurred, including this one.

Jackson made a strong fight, had a couple of big rounds. The ninth is remembered because it was then that Patterson looked like an awfully tired youngster. To the former Olympic champion's credit, he bounced back like an election repeater.

Floyd Patterson had better not be tired in the ninth round this trip.

Elkers Drop Their Third in Row to Bemus Point Nine

Warren Elks suffered their third loss in 5 days when Jamestown Bombers defeated them 8-7 at Bemus Point Sunday afternoon. Webb's homer, Bombers 4 to 0 lead whittled to 7 to 7 score. Bombers scored winning run in 7th on walk out single by Rungler. Cieola, Gnage, Crosley had 2 hits for Elks. Webb, Nagle had 2 hits for Bombers.

Joe McCarthy and Sam Crawford Enter The Hall of Fame

Cooperstown, N. Y. — Marse Joe McCarthy and Wahoo Sam Crawford formally enter Baseball's Hall of Fame today.

Although McCarthy never made the majors as a player, he left his mark as a manager with nine pennants, eight of them with the New York Yankees. Under McCarthy's rule, the Yanks won seven World Series.

Crawford, 77, has been out of baseball since 1917. He collected 2,964 hits in 19 big league seasons at Cincinnati and Detroit.

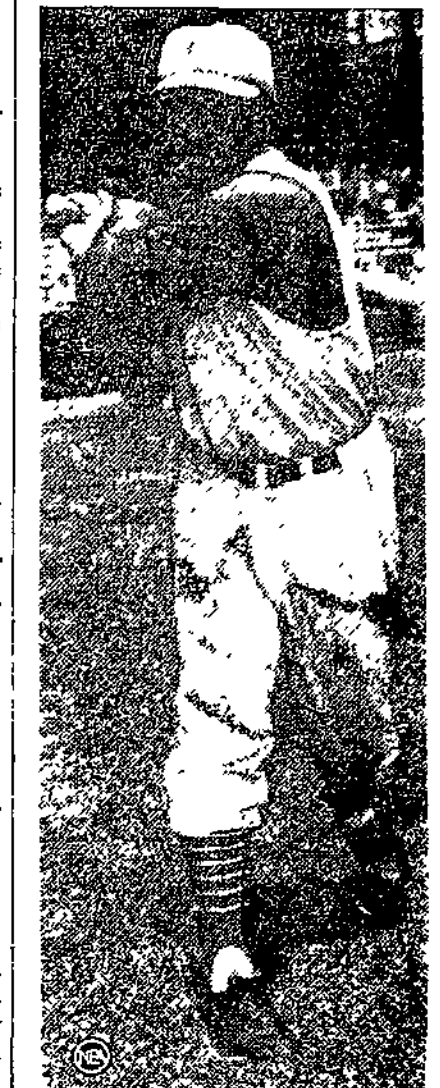

Both McCarthy, 70, and Crawford were able to be present to accept the honors piled on them last February by the special 11-man Veterans Committee.

Under the new system of Hall of Fame voting, adopted last year, new members are selected on alternate years by the Veterans Committee and the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Assn.

In recent years, McCarthy has been a regular visitor to this historic community on Otsego Lake where Abner Doubleday is supposed to have scratched out the first diamond with a stick.

The dedication of the plaques to the new members always is the most important business of the day. Later the crowd adjourns to Doubleday Field, where over 9,000 seats have been sold for the annual big league exhibition game.

If they had known the standings in advance, the directors couldn't have picked a better pairing than the 1957 game—St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago White Sox.

BIG FILLER — George Crowe's hot bat—an average of .312 or thereabouts, with homers and RBI's to boot—has made Cincinnati forget Ted Kluszewski.

Bevino, double. Poust and Bevino were battery for Lions, Poust, winning pitcher, giving up 4 singles with 14 strikeouts. Albaugh, Miller and Bliss composed battery for Macks. This win clinches the Cadet Boro league title for Lions.

UNSINKABLE—One ferry that won't sink is the Burgh Island Ferry in Devon, England. Passengers ride on a covered platform built on stilts attached to tractor-style "caterpillar" wheels, which ride along the sea floor. The engine is set on the platform with the passengers and operates the tracks by means of chains. The ferry runs from the resort spot of Bighury-On-Sea out to nearby Burgh Island—but always keeps its "feet" on the ground.

DISQUALIFIED—Miss U.S.A., Leona Gage, 21, of Maryland, turned out to be a "Mrs." She was disqualified from the Miss Universe Contest at Long Beach, Calif. She is married and the mother of two. Her husband is an Air Force sergeant stationed near Baltimore. Contest officials named runner-up Charlotte Sheffield of Utah as Miss U.S.A. Here Leona breaks down under questioning.

PIPE THE MARINE—U.S. Marine T/Sgt. Alexander J. Gair, of Springfield, Mass., plays his colorful bagpipes at a military review at the Portsmouth, N.H., Naval Base. Sergeant Gair, an inspector-instructor at the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, New Castle, N.H., finds his services are in demand at many functions in the area. While serving in Korea, in 1951-52, Gair played with the famous Black Watch of Scotland.

AIR POWER FOR KOREA—Standing at attention beside their F-86 Sabre Jets are Republic of Korea pilots and crew chiefs during a ceremony at Suwon, Korea, marking the transfer of a jet training unit from the U.S. to the growing ROK Air Force. Those rockets, machine guns and bombs represent the Sabre Jet's full complement of weapons.

SUPPORTING CAST—Danny Kaye has sure-fire support for laughs in this chimpanzee who appears with him in "Merry Andrew." The comedian plays the part of a fellow who gets mixed up with a troupe of circus performers. It's only Kaye's 12th movie in 14 years. He spends much time playing the part of a real-life good-will ambassador, a role he says he's going to keep. Danny's companion enjoying the chimp's act is Director Michael Kidd.

FOUND A HOME—"Thomas," a lost baby robin, has a new "papa" in five-year-old Jamie McKinley, who found the tiny bird after it fell from a nest near his Atlanta, Ga., home. Jamie's parents have spent about $1 a day for worms to feed "Thomas," who, although able to fly now, refuses to rejoin his feathered friends.

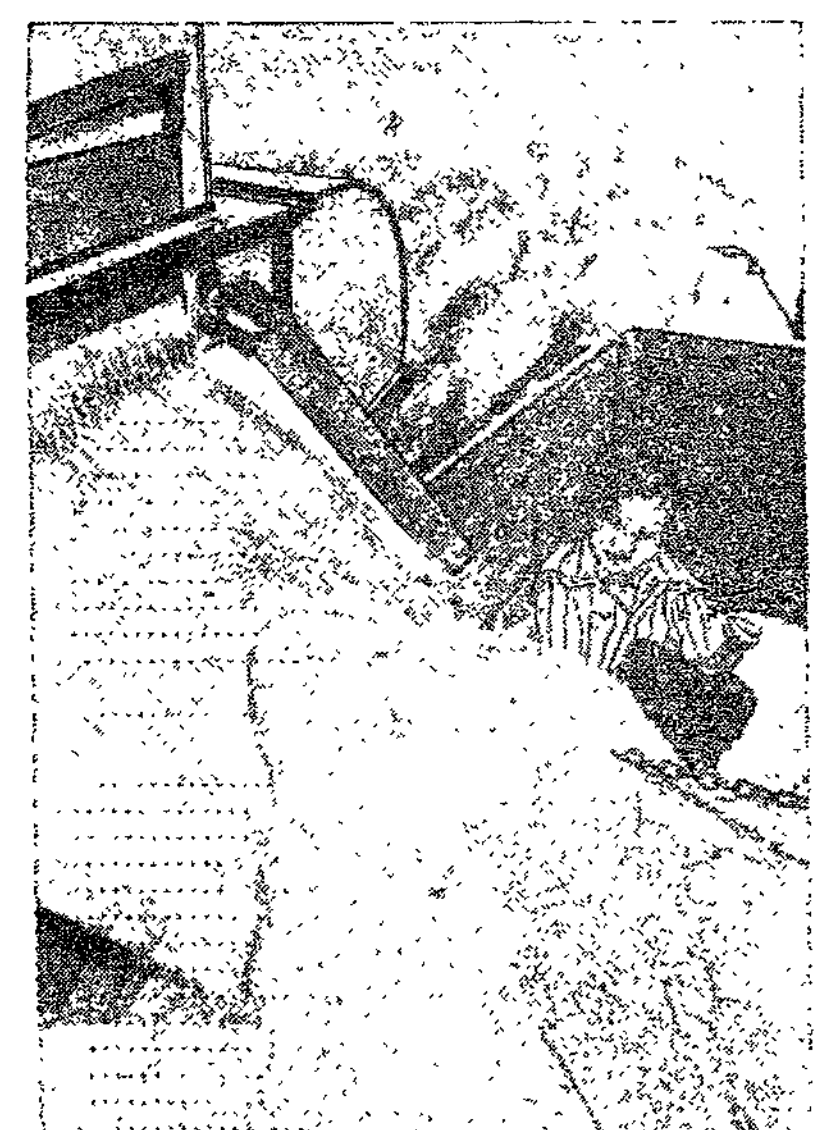

FAITH OR FIGHT?—This cake-cutting scene is misleading. Just before Kathryn Ann Kelly and George P. McCarthy cut the cake at their Cleveland, Ohio, wedding reception, they pledged their faith in each other by placing their ring hands over the wedding flowers. But what's that at left? A closer look reveals a fighting fist on Kathryn's other hand. Perhaps it was just a reflex action. Only George will know.

BEFORE VERDICT—Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa in Washington awaiting the federal jury verdict that acquitted him of charges that he bribed an attorney to "spy" on the Senate Labor Rackets Committee. Hoffa's next battle may be for the union's presidency.

DOMING PIGEON—It must be apple turnover or a piece of upside-down cake which lured this New York City pigeon to the top of this friendly fellow's head. The pigeon turns his head over to take the snack from the fingers of the unidentified man.

GOLDEN "SAND PILE"—Rose Mary Martin, 4, plays in a wheat truck and watches another load of grain shower down from the combine. Rose Mary doesn't know it, but her imitation "sand pile" is worth hundreds of dollars to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Martin, who farm near Salina, Kan.

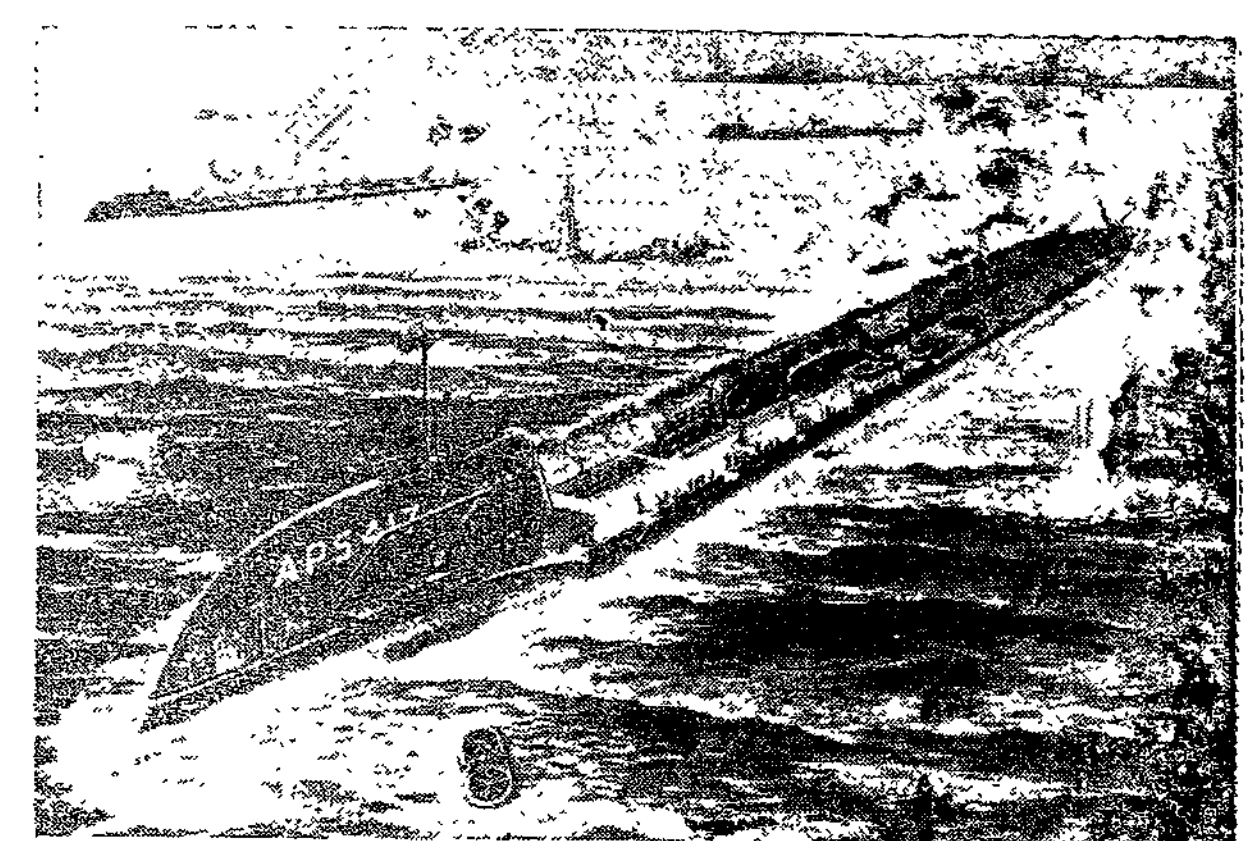

SORROWED MONARCH—The hand of sorrowing Aga Khan IV is kissed by a devout Moslem of the Ismaili sect as the new Aga's grandmother, the Begum, weeps in this Cairo scene. The body of the late Aga Khan was flown to Aswan on the upper Nile for temporary burial in a house named "The Light of Aswan." Gov. El-Bindari of Cairo is shown at right.

CHECK CONFESSION—Officials in Deland, Fla., get ready to check the confession of convict Donald Wedler that he beat to death a Cleveland, Ohio, woman about the same time Marilyn Sheppard was murdered. Her husband, Dr. Sam Sheppard, is serving life for the celebrated slaying. The officials are Volusia County Sheriff Rodney Thursby, left, and lie detector expert Alex Gregory of Detroit.

FIRST—Grace B. Doering is the first woman in the 80-year history of the American Bar Association to be elected an assembly delegate. The Cleveland, Ohio, woman is shown here boarding the liner Queen Mary in New York for a voyage to Europe with 350 bar members for a London conference.

TOMORROW'S CARRIER—Aircraft carriers of tomorrow, instead of steaming over the ocean waves, may rise from below the surface to launch an attack on an enemy shore, says artist-author Frank Tinsley in Mechanix Illustrated Magazine. Advocates of the carrier submarine are not at all surprised by the report that Japan is building a 30,000-ton submarine tanker. Tinsley pictures the undersea carrier (above) as having a flat deck fitted with missile launchers, and serving as a landing field for ducted-fan troop carriers which can rise and land vertically. One is shown in foreground.

CIVILIAN SUBMARINER—The only civilian crew member of the U.S. Navy's nuclear-powered submarine Seawolf, "Guarantee Engineer" Charles B. Gilbert, center, takes the controls during a dive somewhere in the Atlantic, as two of the ship's officers look on. An employee of General Dynamics Corporation's Electric Boat division, which built the ship, Gilbert is assigned to see that the atomic sub meets all specifications and to accumulate information to improve future designs. He's already logged 12,500 miles in the s.b., 8,000 of them while submerged.

MILITARY "TRESS"—Having his long locks combed by a buddy is this soldier of the First Regiment of the King of Sardinia's Grenadiers, founded in 1659. Looking on, left, background, is his counterpart in the regiment's uniform of a century later. The picturesque display of military uniforms, "Through the Ages," was held in Rome's Borghese Gardens for the benefit of the Red Cross.

CONVENTION ADDRESS

By JOSEPH GAVENONIS, Dep't Commander
American Legion of Pennsylvania

Conceived out of comradeship of those who served in the World Wars, and dedicated to the highest ideals of patriotism and good citizenship, the American Legion is carrying on from year to year a program of constructive service and usefulness to the community, state and nation.

By successfully engaging in a multitude of worth-while endeavors throughout the land, the Legion has gained the confidence of the American public and is today regarded as an organization that exerts a tremendous influence for betterment in national life.

We intend to keep it so! Each year as the American Legion has grown older, it has grown stronger and its accomplishments have increased in like proportion. It is doing, effectively, the work that was created to do!

When it acts, it acts in the open and unmistakably. When it talks, it is to the point. And it stands like a rock for the ideals that have made America strong.

In whatever field of service one may choose, the American Legion is in the forefront.

Consider for a moment the veteran's legislation enacted by the United States Congress since the American Legion was chartered by an act of Congress on September 16, 1919; the American Legion has been in the thick of every legislative battle for the improvement of conditions for disabled veterans and their dependents.

As recently as 37 years ago there was no Veterans' Administration. The American Legion led the fight for creation of this agency. It has been the watchdog of its operations. It has been its most constructive critic. There are few who do not recognize that the establishment and improvement of the VA has resulted in a much more efficient and much more economical administration of veterans benefits enacted by Congress.

After World War I there was no hospital and medical program for disabled veterans. The American Legion fought to make this program the finest of its kind in the world today.

I am confident that future historians will someday credit Congress with writing one of the most beneficial, constructive, far-sighted laws in the history of America or any other nation when it enacted the GI bill of rights in June 1944. The American Legion was the architect of this legislation.

Going beyond the field of legislation into the area of direct service to the Nation and to our people, we come to the American Legion's program of Veterans' Rehabilitation, Child Welfare, National Security, and Americanism.

Veterans' rehabilitation to the American Legion means more than sponsoring and supporting legislation of needed benefits for veterans. It means helping veterans obtain these available benefits which they need and to which they are entitled.

Each year the American Legion spends millions of dollars on the National, State, and local level processing veterans' claims, helping sick and disabled veterans obtain the hospital and medical care they need, assisting veterans with insurance, disability, housing, education, and other matters and doing other things which must be done before a veteran can receive authorized benefits.

Nearly a million dollars is spent by the American Legion each year to operate its national rehabilitation service alone. In addition, there are more than 1,000 accredited Legion representatives in VA regional offices, hospitals, clinics, and other installations throughout the country, a service officer in each of the American Legion's more than 17,000 posts is ready and willing to help any veteran with any problem he may have.

Let me emphasize that this service is available to any veteran, regardless of whether he is a member of the American Legion or even eligible for membership in the Legion.

The American Legion, through its veterans' rehabilitation program, has contributed $50,000 to the Heart Fund, an equal amount for Neuro Psychosis research, and additional funds for other medical purposes. It has made available to the Government the advice and services of its expert medical, insurance, and claims advisory personnel.

These are but a few of the positive ways in which the American Legion is serving others without recourse to the Federal Government or any other agency, which means, of course, that this is being done with Legion dues and contributions. I emphasize, not Federal or State funds.

In the field of child welfare, the American Legion has during the past 31 years spent more than $1.5 million to provide direct aid for children in need. In 1955 the Legion's child-welfare program cost the organization more than $7,300,000.

The money spent by the Legion has bought everything from food, clothing, and shelter to iron lungs, prosthetic appliances, and miracle drugs. But the story of this child-welfare program cannot be told in terms of money alone. It must be told, too, in terms of the hundreds of thousands of hours devoted to the care of children each year by the more than 50,000 trained workers in this field in the American Legion and its auxiliary. And it must be told in terms of the children made healthy, the families kept together, and the constructive, far-sighted child laws on the statute books.

Americanism is one of the American Legion's most important and most comprehensive programs and the American Legion drains its own treasury to finance such magnificent activities as Boys State and Boys Nation, the annual nationwide oratorical contest, the sponsorship of Boy Scout Troops, and American Legion junior baseball.

Each year the American Legion spends approximately one million dollars to teach young men of America about the functions of their State and Federal Governments through Boys State and Boys Nation. Some 20,000 boys participate in this program annually.

The essay oratorical contests gives more than 350,000 high school students each year an opportunity to learn about our Constitution and Bill of Rights. Essays are written on these precious documents by the contestants. Many youngsters, who otherwise could not have gone to college, have had a college education because of the scholarships they won in the American Legion's oratorical contest. And every participant has gained a greater understanding and appreciation of those documents that are the foundation of our democratic form of government.

Currently, more than 175,000 future leaders of our Nation are members of the 4,128 Boy Scout Troops sponsored by the American Legion.

Since the Legion began sponsoring these troops, more than one million Boy Scouts have benefited from the wonderful moral and physical training which scouting gave them.

If baseball is America's national pastime, then the American Legion is one of the cornerstones of the country through its unequalled junior baseball program.

This largest, organized, teenage activity in the Nation started in Milbank, South Dakota in 1925. It became a national program in 1926. During the past 20 years, at least 20 million boys have played American Legion junior baseball.

Nearly 20,000 league teams take part annually in this program. More than one million boys play American Legion junior baseball each year. In addition to the 20,000 teams playing in league competition, other teams are sponsored by Legion Posts to give more boys a chance to play junior baseball. This accounts for the total of one million boys.

American Legion junior baseball has been the proving grounds for the major and minor leagues. Since World War II it has given the major leagues sixty per cent of their players. Last year alone, 264 players on the 16 major league teams were graduates of American Legion junior baseball.

But this is an incidental benefit of the program. The real value of the American Legion junior baseball and the reason the Legion spends upward of $1,200,000 each year on this activity is that it teaches young Americans the importance of teamwork and of sportsmanship as one of the cornerstones of good citizenship.

These are but some of the unpublishable, unselfish, day-to-day programs of the American Legion. They do not rate headlines. But they do prove that the American Legion is one of the greatest forces for good our Nation has ever known.

The American Legion fights hard for that in which it believes. But it fights fairly. And win, lose or draw, it continues to carry out its many programs of service for God and country.

BEAUTY AT HER FINGERTIPS

A new development in beauty culture, called TenDay Press-on Nail Color, may solve the nail care problems of millions of American women. The new product consists of a strip of thin plastic film cut into appropriate sizes and shapes. The film can be applied in one quick, dry, spill-proof operation and is guaranteed to beautify the nails with chip-proof color for at least 10 days. The "petals" for the nails can be peeled from their backing with little effort and pressed onto the nails where they will adhere firmly. In photo above, the fingers at left have the new nails just after they have been pressed on and before the excess material is trimmed away. At right are the finished nails.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

Let me emphasize that this service is available to any veteran, regardless of whether he is a member of the American Legion or even eligible for membership in the Legion.

The American Legion, through its veterans' rehabilitation program, has contributed $50,000 to the Heart Fund, an equal amount for Neuro Psychosis research, and additional funds for other medical purposes. It has made available to the Government the advice and services of its expert medical, insurance, and claims advisory personnel.

These are but a few of the positive ways in which the American Legion is serving others without recourse to the Federal Government or any other agency, which means, of course, that this is being done with Legion dues and contributions. I emphasize, not Federal or State funds.
